A frightfully late post about Fright Fest 2022

Greetings all,

Happy New Year, St. Louis ACS Colleagues –

To STL-ACS incoming chair, Tabetha Bohac, I wish you well as you lead the society to its next level of success. I look forward to supporting you in any and all efforts you may take to continue the success brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equity and inclusion has been beneficial to our section. I challenge you to continue the success of STL-ACS in all of its efforts brought forth in 2022 and prior. The efforts of bridging the gap between academia and industry, and participating in the National ACS plan for celebrating diversity, equ